Precautions Taken Against Influenza

Because influenza and pneumonia is raging in surrounding towns, the Norway Board of Health sent out a closing order Tuesday which affects theaters, schools, churches, fraternal orders and places of public assembly.

The schools suspended Tuesday afternoon for at least two weeks. Rex Thorne issued notice that no more pictures would be shown for the present and the New Year's ball was given up. No services will be held in the churches Sunday or during the week following. The public library will remain open only for the exchange of books, and the trustees expect this will be observed to the letter, otherwise it closes. Stores are open as usual. A good plan is to do shopping quickly and thus avoid crowding.

Influenza is not general, and the few cases are running in a comparatively mild form. Pneumonia is being treated successfully and the majority of the sick ones are improving. The action of the Board of Health should cause no alarm, as it is a precautionary measure against a possible repetition of the October epidemic, which the citizens and local physicians would prefer to dodge if within their power.

Capt. Edward G. Schwartz
Capt. Edward G. Schwartz, engineer in chief, U. S. Coast Guard Service, retired, died at the United States Marine Hospital in Portland Friday morning at the age of 72 years.

On leaving the Woodbury he was detailed to the Pacific coast, and for several years was on post duty at Port Townsend, Washington.

He went on the retired list about seven years ago and since that time he has spent much of his time in Norway village and at Lake Penesseewassee. He made many friends here. He engaged a cottage last summer at Lake Penesseewassee and while there in August received a shock, and was taken to the Marine Hospital in Portland. He is survived by a widow, who has been stopping at the Falmouth Hotel, and a sister residing in Baltimore. The remains will be taken to Washington for interment.

The government still retains him in the Reserves.

Great was the disappointment when the New Year's Masquerade dance for Tuesday was called off. Many costumes had been collected for that occasion, and if stories are true, the effect would have been awful to contemplate. ### Soldiers' Letters

Extracts from letter received by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Walker of Fryeburg from their son, Munster Lewis A. Walker, 101st U. S. Engineers, (Band) Headquarters Co., A. E. F.

Somewhere in France, Nov. 4, 1918. Dear folks at Home: Well, here it is fall again, and I'm still "on the job" and feeling fine. The leaves are mostly gone from the trees, but we are having great weather now. When the sun does shine in France, it's wonderful—the air is so clear, that one can see for miles, and it's planes, going and coming, from the front. The worst and coldest weather we got here last year was in December and January—it was very mild and pleasant in February. I had hoped that I would be at home this fall, but it's not to be. How I would enjoy going out in the woods with my gun and shoot a deer or two.

Hope Philip gets his usual number. Am glad Ben Brown got a bear. Can imagine he was some pleased. Perhaps I shall see old Bruin's hide sometime. Tell me all the hunting news when you write. Well, we hear that Turkey and Austria have thrown up the sponge and perhaps Germany may follow suit. There has been some talk of peace, but if you could hear the barrage, that we hear, practically all the time, you would think that war had just begun. The big shells come in here in great number, but the "Huns" don't always "hit the mark," however, an ambulance pretty near me was completely demolished yesterday, no one injured that time, but we have not always been so lucky. Frequently shells burst so near that it puts our ear drums out of commission for a long time. It seems like a miracle that I have escaped so far without a scratch as this is the fifth front I have been on. I've seen enough of France to last me a life time, but would like to visit England again, what I saw of it in the two weeks we were there was beautiful.

Hope all are well at home, and that I shall be with you by spring. Have kept a diary since I left Boston, so there are many things I can tell you when I return that I am not allowed to mention in a letter. The reason I didn't state what I wanted in my Christmas box was that anything from home is always acceptable. The maple sugar you sent a while ago was great.

MARILLA RICKER TELLS EXACTLY WHAT AILS MR. ROOSEVELT

"The little jungle tick is bothering the ex-President. Minute microbes, scratched into his skin, brought on 'relapsing fever.' The recent visit of Mr. Roosevelt to the hospital have been to patch up the serious results that usually accompany jungle fever. The story of how T. R. contracted the malady and a description of what 'jungle fever' means will be found in the next Boston Sunday Advertiser and American."

The above clipping came from the Boston American. I would not pay seven cents to learn what ailed "Ananias Teddy." I did not buy the Sunday Advertiser and American, but some one sent me a copy, and person can learn all about microbes and parasites of all descriptions, both external and internal, including ticks, fleas and lice in Webster's unabridged dictionary, but the Sunday American had pages of staff about parasites of all description and pictures of Teddy trying to explain his ailments.

I am quite sure that the parasites of Envy and Jealousy are all that are troubling him. We all know that no other man ever had to be running short of the one President Wilson received in France. I am sure the public were more interested in Wilson's reception and the roses and violets that were showered on him than they were in Teddy and his parasites. He has advertised himself so much, he seems to be running short of raw material for advertising himself, and that shows that the parasites of Envy and Jealousy have played havoc with him.

We all remember when Teddy said that President Wilson made a mistake in not sending him over to be running short of raw material for advertising himself, and that shows that the parasites of Envy and Jealousy have played havoc with him.

We have heard no criticism concerning the fourteenth principles enunciated by President Wilson for general duty, the last heard about it Teddy said the fourteenth principles were thoroughly mischievous and criticized the President in many ways, but the parasites of envy and jealousy seem to have sent him to a hospital where he is pictured as being wrapped in a blanket, and is silent.

The situation in France seems to have been too deep for words and reminds me of a story of two shipwrecked sailors on a desert island, one said to the other "can you pray, Bill?" "No," said the other "sing a hymn?" "No," said the other "let us have something religious, let us have a collection."

55th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thompson have just passed their 55th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were married at Turner village by Rev. Mr. Higgins, then pastor of the Baptist Church. Mr. Thompson was born in Turner in 1844, the son of John Thompson and Mary Bradford Thompson. His mother was a descendant of the Bradford family that came in the Mayflower to this country. He lived in Turner until he was about 12 years of age when his parents moved to Hartford, where he resided during his young manhood. He was educated in the public schools of Turner and Hartford.

At the opening of the Civil War he enlisted, being one of the youngest of his regiment and served his country faithfully for nearly three years. Later he moved to Canton and started the "Horse Breeder's Monthly," and was editor and proprietor of this well-known periodical for many years. Mr. Thompson has always been interested in fine horses and is an authority on their breeding, and has owned several valuable "high steppers." He is a cornet player of ability and led the brass band of Hartford and Canton for many years. He was instrumental in the building of the "Canton Driving Park," the track being one of the fastest in the State and of organizing the Androsoggin Valley Agricultural society. He was the president of this society for six or eight years.

Mr. Thompson served the town of Canton as postmaster for eleven years. He is an esteemed member of John A. Hodge post No. 71, G. A. R.; only six of whom are living at the present time.
